

CAUTION WARNING BEWARE

Don't become a victim of unpermitted work. If the do-it-yourselfer or a hired contractor does not pull permits for scopes of work requiring permits, the homeowner becomes the responsible party with many times no penalty to the hired contractor. Failure to obtain necessary construction permits may become a safety issue or an unexpected expense far in excess of the original building permit. Contractors who do not pull a permit may lack a license and expose homeowners to risk.
